In Japan, high school students have different things they like to do in their free time. They join clubs, play sports, or have hobbies like playing video games and reading manga. They spend different amounts of time on these activities that they are interested in. When some of the students at a private high school were asked about the topic, these were their comments:

Sakino, Grade 12

“I usually spend most of my free time studying the whole week. I study around 21 hours every week. I also play soccer for one hour on weekdays to refresh my mind.”

Ryo, Grade 10

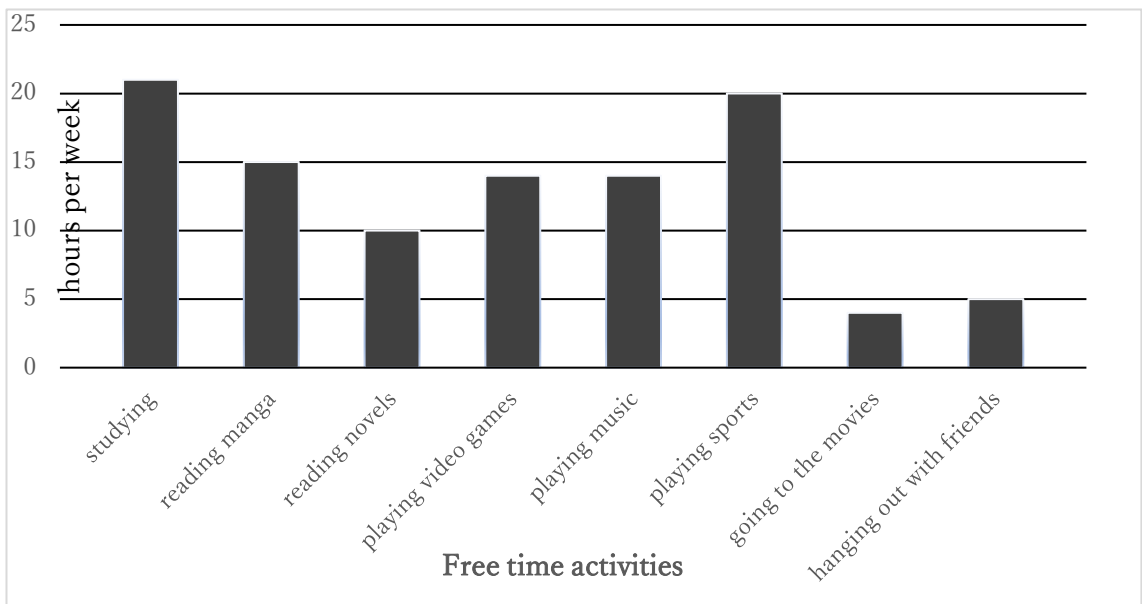

“Well, I spend my free time studying at school and I play tennis for 20 hours a week on average.”

Sayaka, Grade 11

“I always study at the school library on weekdays. I also play video games at least 2 hours each day. On the weekends, I spend time with my friends for 5 hours,”

Fantastic Rock Festival - Lake Kawaguchi, Japan

The Fantastic Rock Festival is a three-day event. It attracts both musicians and audiences around the world. It is also known as one of the cleanest and most *respectful concert festivals in the world. This year, the festival will be held near Lake Kawaguchi, only about two and a half hours by public transport from Tokyo.

You don't want to miss this year's lineup, with internationally famous singers like Brock Mars and Ed Shearing. You can also discover local musicians with a newer and more unique style of music. Book your tickets now!

Reviews

Linus - Too much time wasted. ★

I loved the lineup, but the wait times for everything was so long. First, getting to the place took longer than the description, about 4 hours. When the buses got full, we had to wait another hour for the next one. The organizers didn't prepare enough buses to handle the crowds. Also, we spent around 20 minutes waiting for the toilets under the rain. On top of that, the size of the place could not handle that many people, so it took a long time to get from one performance to the next. The lines were too long.

Patricia - Just be prepared. ★★★

Many people are angry at how the festival was organized, but if you're prepared I think you can still have a good time. Bring a seat with you because you will be waiting in line for food, performances, bathrooms and buses. Keep in mind that it's held during the rainy season, so remember to bring boots and a raincoat too.

Overall, because I was ready for the weather and crowds, I enjoyed the festival. The singers were great, the *atmosphere was *lively and the food was delicious. I will be coming back again next year!

Masaru - Best music festival! ★★★★★

Of course, many people came for singers like Brock Mars, but what I enjoyed the most was the variety of music. I got to experience everything from pop to jazz music! I also found new artists that I didn't know about before and bought their albums straight away.

Unfortunately, the typhoon blew away my tent, but thankfully the staff responded quickly. They let us go to the hotel's conference room to stay the night, free of charge. Although there were a lot of people, I felt the staff were kind and willing to help.

*respectful 礼儀正しい *atmosphere 雰囲気 *lively 活気がある

(1) Which of the following groups is the best for this event?

- ア people who prefer events that are easy to follow with short waiting times.
- イ people who are fans of traditional Japanese music and performers.
- ウ people who enjoy discovering new and different music styles.
- エ people who are looking for a concert held in an indoor place.

(2) What is one of the main problems talked about in Linus's review?

- ア The long waiting time.
- イ The weather conditions.
- ウ The quality of the performances.
- エ The variety of food offered.

(3) What is Patricia most likely to do next year?

- ア Avoid attending the festival because of the long wait times.
- イ Bring extra food and drinks to the festival.
- ウ Attend the festival again.
- エ Go to a different festival instead.

(4) What does Masaru talk about the staff's response to the typhoon?

- ア The staff were unhelpful and rude.
- イ The staff provided a free hotel room for the night.
- ウ The staff did nothing to assist.
- エ The staff moved everyone to a nearby festival.

(5) What do both Patricia and Masaru agree on about the festival?

- ア The food was delicious.
- イ The performances are great.
- ウ The staff were friendly and easy to talk.
- エ The festival was too crowded

Cultural Trips Abroad Debate

<Part 1>

Many high school students in Japan get to go on cultural trips abroad. Does your school provide cultural trips abroad? What countries do students usually go to? The countries students tend to visit are the US, Canada, Singapore, and the Philippines. Students often go abroad in groups with a few teachers traveling with them. Some high schools in other countries offer similar experiences for their students. However, most of them don't get the chance to go abroad with their school. There are good and bad points for taking part in cultural trips abroad. Some students around the world are giving their opinions. Is going on cultural trips abroad important in high school?

<Part 2>

YES

Lucas, from New Zealand

My school lets us go on cultural trips abroad. I'm glad it does because going abroad helps you learn many things. You can see a new country and a new culture. You also learn about different foods, cultures, and ways of life. This makes you more open-minded. I have been abroad for a cultural trip twice. The first time, I went to Brazil. The second time, I went to South Korea. They were both great experiences! Moreover, traveling teaches you to be *independent and *responsible. You learn how to explore new places. Teachers were with us, but we learned to take care of ourselves and our friends. This prepares you for life after graduation. There are some challenges, too. The travel itself can be tiring. The food may be very different. You may feel homesick. But the good things are more important. I think that the best thing about going abroad is the great memories and friends that you make. My friends and I still talk about the funny moments from Brazil and South Korea. For high school students, this experience is very valuable. It shows you more of the world.

<Part 3>

NO

Sam, from the US

I think that cultural trips abroad are not important for high school students. This is because going abroad is expensive. Not all families can pay for it. Parents already pay a lot of money on *school fees. The money could be spent on other things. There are also risks when traveling abroad, like getting lost or sick in a foreign country. This can be scary for young students away from home. Teachers cannot look after everyone all of the time. In addition, students can learn about different cultures without leaving their own country. There are books, movies, and people from other cultures living nearby. Therefore, I do not think it is necessary to travel far to gain new experiences. High school is for studying hard and preparing for university or work! Going abroad can stop students from learning well. You can always travel later in life when you are older. Cultural trips abroad can be fun, but they are not important for high school students. In my opinion, we should focus on our education.
